Re: WSOU Investments LLC v. Google LLC, Nos. 20-571, 20-572, 20-573, 20-575, 20-576, 20-579, 20-580, 20-583, 20-584, 20-585 (W.D. Texas)

Dear Mr. Richins:

I write in response to your email of yesterday regarding Google's subpoenas to BP Funding Trust and Terrier SSC, LLC.

As you know, on Wednesday, September 8, 2021, we served WSOU with notices of the subpoenas that we then served on BP Funding Trust and Terrier. BP and Terrier did not serve responses and objections to the subpoenas, thereby waiving all objections. Likewise, WSOU raised no objections to the subpoenas despite being in regular contact with Google on other issues.

Given Terrier's complete silence, Google moved to compel production. Google LLC v. Terrier SSC, LLC, No. 21-mc-419 (D. Del. October 7, 2021). Terrier's opposition to Google's motion is due next Thursday, October 21, 2021.

On October 1, 2021, well after its date to respond to the subpoena, BP Funding Trust contacted Google and sought to meet and confer. Following those discussions, BP Funding Trust agreed in writing to produce documents by today, Friday, October 15, 2021. Relying on this agreement, Google postponed its motion to compel. Not until yesterday, the day before BP Funding Trust had agreed in writing to produce documents, did WSOU for the first time raise any issue regarding these subpoenas by, as you put it, "inform[ing] Basepoint and Terrier that Google's demands on them are improper" and "that production of the documents will prejudice WSOU." In response to your improper attempt to interfere with BP Funding Trust's agreement to produce documents, BP Funding Trust indicated that it would no longer honor that agreement. As a result, Google moved today to compel production from BP Funding Trust. Google LLC v. BP Funding Trust, No. 21-mc-440 (D. Del. October 15, 2021).

You have stated that WSOU plans to seek a protective order before the Western District of Texas. Such an order would not be appropriate; the correct forum for resolving any issue regarding Google's subpoenas is the enforcement court, here the District of Delaware. We are also surprised by your statement that "production of the documents will prejudice WSOU." We cannot see how production by a non-party can "prejudice" WSOU unless "prejudice" includes the revelation of information that WSOU considers unhelpful to its claims. If you are aware of some prejudice that WSOU would suffer from this production, please state it with specificity.

Finally, you stated without citation that some of these documents were irrelevant in some other, unspecified case. Without knowing more, we cannot evaluate your statement. In these cases, however, we can be certain that these documents are central to WSOU's standing or lack thereof. Every infringement plaintiff must show standing to assert every patent. In light of this rule, and especially following the experience of the Uniloc cases, where loan documents established lack of standing, we are confident that WSOU will agree these documents are highly relevant to its standing to bring these cases.

Very Truly Yours,

Jennifer A. Kash
